

Laura Woods

Laura Woods is a presenter, reporter and writer.

Having completed her BA Hons in print journalism at Kingston University she joined Sky Sports as a runner in 2009 after a stint of work experience and worked her way up to producer.

She then began reporting on various different sports including the NFL International Series Wembley and Sky Sports first ever children's TV Show Game.

Laura then joined Soccer AM's first ever Youtube Chanel as a presenter alongside Adam Smith working with numerous Premier League footballers, travelling around France for the duration of the 2016 European Championships and presenting their own football show Carling In Off the Bar.

Laura is also a regular on Sky Sports' Darts coverage as a reporter and on occasion has stepped into the presenting role to fill in for the legendary Dave Clark.

She now represents a number of media outlets including Arsenal FC, Premier League Productions and talkSPORT.

She lists some of her proudest moments as presenting a 30-minute international stream with Cristiano Ronaldo for Sky Sports and Nike, interviewing David Beckham at the official launch of his long-awaited MLS franchise in Miami and putting up with Alan Brazil every Wednesday morning.

Laura was once described as relentless, which she chooses to accept as a compliment. An avid Arsenal fan from a young age she lists her heroes as David Seamen and oddly Ray Parlour, despite there being plenty of other iconic players to choose from - just don't ask her if she's Wenger in or Wenger out.

Along with her Sky Sports shows you can currently you can find her presenting Friday nights 7pm - 10pm with Danny Kelly on talkSPORT.

She uses her time off to indulge in the finer things in life - Ribena and Wotsits.
